1. Samples were removed from one below each end of the 1000 gallon gasoline tank and from one below each end of the #2 fuel oil tank.

2. Samples were taken by pounding a cylinder into the ground, making sure no headspace was present. A clean cylinder was used with each sample. Samples were packed in ice and taken to the lab as soon as possible.

3. California GC Method with SW-846 Method 5030 purge and trap for gasoline and California GC Method with SW-846 Method 3550 sonication extraction for #2 fuel oil was used for testing.

4. Gasoline samples were taken on 11-13-90 and the fuel oil samples were taken on 11-13-90.
