PERSONS CONTACTED: H.W. Robertson (AT&T), Ray Pierce (DuPont), Troy Eberly (Harper Corp.), Scott Smith (Genuine Auto Parts Co.), and David French (Amplate, Inc.).

Information

On 25 March 1996, I received several manifests from Jim Edwards that he had questions on. Some of the manifests were over the weight limits for their RCRA status. I called and talked to the persons that were listed as contacts on the manifest documents. I found the following information:

FACILITY	MANIFEST #	CODE/ AMOUNT
1.) DuPont 2300 Old Steele Creek Rd. Charlotte, NC 28208 NCD 991278748 (Contact: Ray Pierce)	80100	F006 728 lbs. F002 237 lbs.

Reason: The facility conducted a clean out of their outdated lab chemicals. I told them about generating more than the limit for their CESQG status. They said that it was an oversight and would not happen again. They normally only generate in the exempt range.

2.) Harper Corp. 16250 Steel Creek Rd. Charlotte, NC 28217 NCR 000000265 (Contact: Troy Eberly)	00021	7777 12,250 lbs.
--	-------	------------------

Reason: The facility generates a plasma arc dust from the resurfacing of anilox rolls for the printing industry. The dust has been tested for the TCLP metals and has passed. I am not sure why this manifest was flagged because it is not hazardous waste.

3.) AT&T 6701-A Northpark Blvd. Charlotte, NC 28216 NCD 982122459 (Contact: H.W. Robertson)	96020	D002/ D006 500 lbs.

Reason: The company switched out the old batteries at the site with new ones. They are a CESQG, and did not mean to collect the batteries all at once. I explained the rules to them and they said that it was an oversight. I told them that if it happens again, that they will have to move up to SQG status. They assured me that it would not. I will keep a check on them to make sure that it does not.

FACILITY	MANIFEST #	CODE/AMOUNT
4.) Genuine Auto Parts 124 Atando Ave.	96001	D008 20 cu. yds.
Charlotte, NC 28206	96002	D008 20 cu. yds.
NCD 982086993	96004	D008 20 cu. yds.
(Contact: Scott Smith in Atlanta, GA.)

Reason: The site has undergone a one-time remediation, and has been empty for about two (2) years. On 27 March 1996, I had a phone conversation with Mr. Scott Smith of Genuine Parts Co.'s corporate office in Atlanta, GA. He said that there was an old UST still at the 124 Atando Ave. site when they bought the property. The former tenant was a machine shop. The remediation was conducted by AWARE Environmental, hired by Genuine Parts Co. The soil was generated from the excavation of the tank. Mr. Smith said that the UST was not an oil tank. He also said that the remediation was overviewed by DEM-Ground Water Section (Karen Connell). I told Mr. Smith that because of the amount of contaminated soil, Genuine Parts Co. would have to file as a LQG, fill out the annual report, and pay the fee. At that point, they could then move back to their original status.

5.) Amplate, Inc. 7820 Tyner St.	10026	F006 2 cu. yds.
Charlotte, NC 28256
NCD 059145615 (Contact: David French)

Reason: The facility generated 1,597 pounds of sludge from 12-12-95 to 3-6-96. That divides out to 532.3 pounds per month. That is well below their limit of 2,200 pounds per month for a SQG. The facility is in compliance with the Small Quantity hazardous waste generation limits, and is one of three finalist for the goverernor's waste reduction award.

Make Correction JG

Dear Mr. Edwards:

As per our conversation April 10, 1995, I filled out a request for an EPA Identification number for Harper Corporation of America at 11625 Steel Creek Road, Charlotte, N.C. 28278. I accidentally listed Harper Corporation as a Transporter.

This is to notify you that we are a small quantity generator only and have no intention of transporting waste.

Our EPA I.D. number was issued on approximately March 15, 1995 and is #NCR000000265.

The Transporting Company we have contracted with us is Van Waters and Rogers Inc.

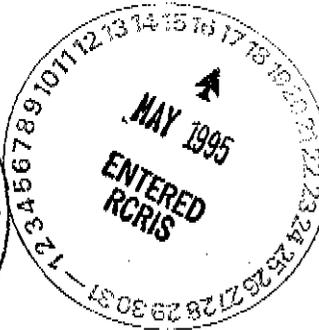

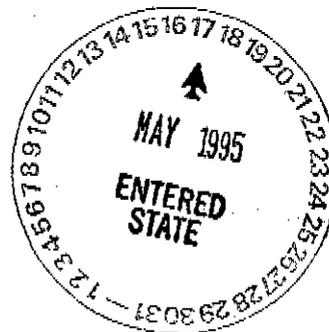

Please note this and thank you for your help.

Sincerely,
