Ed,

Attached is a summary and pictures of a site recon of the 1101 Biddle Street liquid nitrogen fertilizer spill site that John Walch and I visited in New Bern with emergency management/fire and rescue last June. I want to take you by this site next Monday after we meet at Phoenix. I am thinking about collecting one geoprobe and maybe some soil samples for a full scan. The site is on municipal water and there is no well within 1000 feet of this site. See the attached photos (forget the black and white photos I attempted to scan).
