Dear Mr. Gaither,

In order to correct some drainage problems, we have done some minor excavation. We had a drain pipe that was filled at its exit point and a ditch that was full of silt. During the correction of the problem, we removed the crossies and dug into the bank behind the ditch. The affected area is not near the location of our closed dump area. I have drawn a rough diagram below showing the location of this activity. The area where the dirt has been moved is indicated by Xs.

Please let me know if you require further information.

Sincerely,

Jim Smith
