Subject: Re: Notification of APHIS Regulated Garbage Interstate Hauling

Good morning Mr. Frost - No they do not have or plan any transfer facility in NC. They current make the trip from Charlotte to Baltimore, to haul medical waste in a day. Form that perspective they could easily schedule a pick up and haul for the proposed APHIS waste from Charlotte to Baltimore in a day trip, with no need to hold, collect, store in NC for any period of time, other than at the site of generation. Charlotte is about an 8 hour drive to Baltimore, I am making the assumption that 8 hours would be the longest drive possible without requiring to stop overnight, etc. If the proposed APHIS haul were more than that and required a "stop, hold, collection, etc" then CBE would not agree to the haul or would work with Stericycle's Haw River Plant (assuming they are APHIS approved - which I believe they are).

Thank you

Ms. Arredondo,

The North Carolina Division of Waste Management (NCDWM) requests that you forward a copy of the CBE operation plan for hauling APHIS waste through the State.

NCDWM's concern is, does CBE have any plans to; establish a facility, stockpile, store, warehouse, combine loads, or sort/process APHIS waste in the State?
